Covid in check, TN Govt mulls opening schools

KUMAR CHELLAPPAN ■ CHENNAI

Tamil Nadu can breathe easy now and the AIADMK Government is seriously considering the re-opening of high schools and colleges at the earliest. The reason? The Covid-19 in the State has come under control and the number of new patients diagnosed with the pandemic per day too has come down.

As on Monday evening, the State had just 18,825 Covid-19 patients and the number of newly diagnosed persons stood at 2,257. The release issued by the Directorate of Public Health and Preventive Medicine late Monday evening stated that the State tests more than 75,000 samples per day. The fatalities too have come down in Tamil Nadu. On Monday, the State saw just 18 persons succumbing to the pandemic.

Dr C.V. Krishnaswami, octogenarian physician and medical researcher in Chennai who has been tracking the course of the spread of Covid-19 expressed relief for the first time since the breaking out of the pandemic in February 2020. "I'm not sure if all the Covid-19 cases reported by the administration through its Covid-19 cells have brought down the number of Covid-19 cases. The data released by the Government on a daily basis substantiates the ground reality," said Dr Krishnaswami. C Vijayarajakar, health minister, attributed the sharp decline in the number of Covid-19 cases to the expertise of the medical fraternity. "The strengthening of the medical infrastructure by establishing more Covid-19 care centres across the State and sustained awareness campaigns contributed a lot in bringing down the number of cases," said Vijayarajakar who was all praise for Tamil Nadu's health care force that include doctors, nurses and para medical staff.

The Government is likely to take a decision in reopening of schools and colleges in the coming days. As part of the move to reopen the educational institutions, the Education Department held a meeting with representatives of schools and parents on Monday. A decision about the reopening of schools will be finalised after the Deepavali festival said a director in the Schools Education Department.

Meanwhile, cinema theatres which have been closed down for the last eight months as part of the Covid-19 containment shows on Tuesday. "I am happy to note that the awareness and sense of duty has reached the lower strata of society.

Didi's Minister slams own Govt for neglecting Nandigram dist

SAUGAR SENGUPTA ■ KOLKATA

Subbendu Adhikari, the most powerful Minister and leader in the Trinamool Congress after Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee, seems to have unfurled the banner of rebellion hitting out at his own party for neglecting Nandigram which catapulted the TMC to power in 2011.

Adhikari the State Transport Minister and a mass leader with considerable grip over a large group of districts apart from his own East Midnapore on Tuesday organised a mass rally at Nandigram independent of the TMC to commemorate the Nandigram Day. There was no TMC flag to be seen in the meeting.

Amid speculations of his future political move Adhikari -- whose father Sisir and brother Dibyendu Adhikari are local TMC MPs -- said that Nandigram movement was a people's movement. "I don't want to meet parties and meet parties and meet parties," he said. "I am a person of life adding. This movement did not belong to any particular individual (apparently the

He rued "no one save me came here after these years and after 13 years, a few people are now coming here as the elections are approaching... But these people should remember that they should come here after elections too if they are coming here just before the polls.

The meeting was organized under the auspices of Bhumi Uchhed Pratirodh Committee. The platform which was created to fight the Left Front Government between 2007 and 2011. Reminding that he would "not use a platform of BUPC for political gains," Adhikari said.

"I used to come alone during these days and stood by the people," he said. "Whatever I will have to say regarding my next course of action, I will say from a political platform. I will say everything but not from this pious stage."

In a significant departure from the past, he did not wear the party's dynastic rale by the Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee to be seen in the rally and neither did Adhikari for once mentioned the Chief Minister's name in his hour-long speech in the rally.

Earlier in a separate meeting he had without taking the name of TMC MP and Chief Minister's nephew Abhishek Banerjee who has been promoted as the TMC youth wing chief in place of Adhikari the rebel leader said "I have neither been air-dropped nor risen up the ranks automatically," Adhikari said. "I have remained how he had 'climbed up step by step by step'."

Adhikari's posters have often been appearing in many districts like Purulia, Nadia, Murshidabad, East Midnapore, Malda, Durdioding and Bankura without identifying him with the TMC or the Chief Minister.

Critics have floated two views on Adhikari, perhaps the most powerful leader to rebel after Mukul Roy who left the party in 2018. While some link his rebellion to the role played by the dynastic rule by the Chief Minister who has been promoting Abhishek Banerjee at the cost of Adhikari,

KT Jaleel in fresh trouble over fraudulent PhD thesis

PNS ■ KOCHI

More troubles are awaiting Chief Minister, Kerala's Higher Education Minister, who is under the scanner of the Customs Department, Enforcement Directorate and National Investigation Agency (NIA) for his role in importing 'Quran and dates' through the UAE Consulate in Thiruvananthapuram without the consent of the External Affairs Ministry.

'Save University Campaign Committee'. A Thiruvananthapuram based organisation of academicians and educationists have complained to Governor Arif Mohammed Khan, who is also the Vice-Chancellor of the University of Kerala, that the PhD thesis on which Jaleel was awarded PhD by the University was fake, fraudulent and full of mistakes.

The PhD thesis of Jaleel, which was submitted to the team of experts to the Vice-Chancellor of Kerala University for further action and examination.

Molph Rebellion of 1921 is full of factual errors and has copied from other books.

"This thesis does not qualify to be a research work. The thesis based on which Jaleel was awarded PhD in the year 2008 has not been uploaded on the website of the University Grant Commission. The team of experts appointed by the Save University Campaign Committee managed to get the copy of the thesis under the RTI request. The team found that there was nothing new in the thesis and it was not clear what the researcher was trying to drive home," said one of the team members.

The Governor has sent the copy of the thesis to the team of experts to the Vice-Chancellor of Kerala University for further action and examination.

Jaleel was questioned by the Customs Department officials about the import of Quran without observing the diplomatic protocols.

Pollution level jumps 2.5 times within a week

Aligarh: There is often a possibility of increasing air pollution levels in Deopauli but this week the pollution has jumped by just a week before Deepavali. By October 31, the pollution level was 150 to 180 micrograms per cubic meter which has reached 400 micrograms per cubic meter in the first week of November. The pollution has increased even more on Deepavali. Meanwhile, officials of the pollution control department and the environmental lovers are worried due to this increased level.

The pollution had improved during the Corona lockdown in March and the environment reached an ideal state. Pollution levels went down between 90 and 100 micrograms per cubic meter during the three-month lockdown.

6 properties of Dawood Ibrahim sold for ₹23L at Govt e-auction

TN RAGHUNATHA ■ MUMBAI

Unlike in the past when there used to be very few bidders for his properties at earlier auctions, as many as six properties of fugitive gangster Dawood Ibrahim in his ancestral village of Mumbai in Khed taluka of Ratnagiri district in coastal Konkan region were sold by the Union Government at an e-auction organised under the Smugglers and Foreign Exchange Manipulators (Forfeiture of Property) Act (SAFEMA), 1976, on Tuesday.

The six properties were sold for a collective amount of ₹22.93 lakh through the scheduled online, offline and sealed tender auction held here. While lawyer Ajay Shrivastava bought two properties, a Supreme Court advocate Bhupendra Bhardwaj picked up Dawood's four other assets.

Of the six properties, a 27-guntha land parcel (survey no 181) which houses a two-storey bungalow and two houses fetched a price of ₹11.20 lakh at the auction, as against its base price of ₹5.35 lakh. The bid was won by Ajay Shrivastava.

Shrivastava also walked away with Dawood's another property -- a 24.99-guntha land parcel (survey number 153) at Mumbai base price of ₹4.50 lakh as against the reserved price of ₹1.89 lakh.

Another buyer Bhardwaj bought four land parcels -- 29-guntha of land parcel (survey no 152) for ₹1.52 lakh (survey number 150), 27-guntha of plot for a reserve price of ₹2.05 lakh (survey number 151), 29.30 gunths of land with a base price of ₹2.23 lakh (survey number 152) and 18 gunths of land with a reserved price of ₹1.38 lakh (survey number 155) for a collective price of ₹7.18 lakh.

However, one more property -- which was among the seven properties slated for auction -- was withdrawn at the last moment due to a technical error. This property houses a petrol pump and other buildings at Looe in Khed taluka. The authorities had kept a base price of ₹6.48 lakh for this property.

Similarly, two flats of Dawood's former aide Iqbal Memon alias Iqbal Mirchi (nos 501 and 502) in Milon Apartments on Juhu Lara Road in Santacruz (West) in north-west Mumbai remained unsold despite many enquiries for these two prime properties. Talking to media persons after the auction, Additional Commissioner (Income Tax) R N Sengupta said: "The auction was successful. We got an excellent response for the auction. The six properties at Ratnagiri have been successfully sold. Four bids were won by and two others were bagged by Shrivastava." Competent Authority Iqbal Gopal Singh supervised the auction.

According to official sources, the Union Finance Ministry had in all planned to sell all assets of Dawood in the first half of the year. However, the authorities could not meet the target owing to the lockdown resulting in the auction.

There have been at least half a dozen occasions in the past when the Centre has made an effort to auction the properties belonging to Dawood which were attached by various agencies under the 1993 Mumbai serial blasts, in which the underworld don is one of the absconding accused.

There are at least 50 benami properties in Mumbai. Dawood's younger sister Hasena Ibrahim Parkar used to take care of several of these properties till she passed away on July 5, 2014. It may be recalled that while the TADA court attached 87 properties of Dawood in the nineties following his involvement in March 12, 1993 Mumbai serial blasts, the IT department attached the remaining 15 properties subsequent to her death.

Though the IT department had put 23 properties for an auction in March 2001 after it failed to recover the tax dues for assessment years from 1991-1992 to 1995-1996, there are more than equal number benami properties which still remain unattached in Mumbai.

Delhi-based lawyer Ajay Shrivastava was incidentally the only bidders to have bid for one of Dawood's properties when they were put up for a public auction in a Colaba hotel in south Mumbai on March 28, 2001.

Incidentally, Shrivastava had to wage prolonged litigation against Dawood Ibrahim's Mumbai family members, before the Mumbai Small Causes Court in the first week of March 2011 directed Hasena Parkar to hand over the purchased property to him. The property is located at Industrial plot no 32 at Tardeo in south Mumbai -- to him within three months.

The Court had earlier banned mass entry of visitors inside Durga Puja pandals in pandemic situation.
